

About the Coach: Robin Farris

Head Coach Robin Farris has been at Indiana University Southeast for twenty years where he has won seven conference championships, two regional championships, and four trips to the NAIA National Tournament, advancing to the Sweet Sixteen in 2002. Prior to arriving at IU Southeast he played professionally for seven years in Great Britain. He also coached men's and women's basketball in Norway where his women's team won a National Championship. Coach Farris played college ball at Tiffin University. During his senior year he averaged 26.8 points per game leading them to a Mid-Ohio Conference Championship and was inducted into the Tiffin University Hall of Fame in 1995.
