Students Really Undervalue the Internship Experience

I've heard them all, "I'm too busy for an internship," "I can't afford to quit my current job," "I don't want to go through the process." These are just a few excuses students have for not taking advantage of the internship program and I know them well because, I too, had these excuses not too long ago. On a campus where internships are not required, it is easy to put this valuable experience at the bottom of our busy agenda list.

Hello, my name is Hannah Waller-Marsh and I am a senior Communication major here at Indiana University Southeast. This semester I am interning in the Career Services office and would like to share my internship experience with you. Over the summer, I was fortunate enough to find a full-time, paid internship which allowed me to both gain valuable experience and receive six credit hours- the equivalence of two classes! Thanks to my internship, I will now be able to graduate in December!

Furthermore, from my job-seeking experience, I have learned the importance of an internship on a resume-my call-backs tripled! In a tough job market, and with more and more students going to college, it is important to gain experience that will allow you to be one step ahead. So, I urge you to stop by Career Services to learn more about the opportunity today, because this small step could help you take a huge leap in your future.

STEP 1, 2, 3

During the fall semester, Career Services will be hosting group internship information sessions to allow students to learn more about the internship program. Students attending the sessions will learn about the necessary steps of the program (there's really not that many!), opportunity to earn credit, and much more! The sessions will take place every Monday, Wednesday and Thursday at 12:30p.m. and on Tuesdays at 5:30p.m. Interested students should RSVP to the session by calling 812.941.2275 or by stopping in the Career Services office at UC 106.

STEP UP TO THE PLATE!

If you're looking for an internship and/or want to volunteer, join us to find volunteer opportunities or an internship at a local non-profit agency. Help the community and get college credit! Free Homerun Hotdogs! Wednesday, September 16, 2009 from 11:30 am - 1:30 pm in the Hoosier Room. No need to RSVP, just stop by!
