

Animal Welfare Whistleblower Policy

It is the policy of IU Southeast that animals shall be housed, cared for and used in accordance with the highest standards of comfort, cleanliness, and humaneness as specified by the guidelines and regulations of the Animal Welfare Act, The National Institutes of Health, and the Public Health Service. Any individual who has concerns about the care and use of animals or wants to report deficiencies in animal care or treatment at IU Southeast, is asked to contact the Dean for Research or the IACUC Chair at (812) 941-2208, Office of Academic Affairs, IU Southeast, 4201 Grant Line Road, New Albany, IN 47150.

Remember, reporting of an animal welfare concern will be anonymous. In addition, there will be nondiscrimination against the concerned/reporting party and reporting of a concern will include protections from reprisals.
