Welcome New Student

We are so pleased to welcome you to our Grenadier family. The next step in your transition to college is signing up for Orientation. Orientation is a day-long event designed to educate you and your family about the opportunities available at IU Southeast.

You must attend Orientation before registering for classes.

Participation in Orientation is critical. You will receive information about your program of study, academic advising, financial aid and billing, campus resources, and college success for first-year students. During your Orientation, you will meet current students, faculty, and staff; meet with an academic advisor; register for fall classes; reserve your parking permit; and get your questions answered.

Read this invitation carefully, share it with your family, and then follow the steps as outlined to ensure a smooth transition to college.

Contact the office of Campus Life at (812) 941-2316, or campuslife@ius.edu, if you have any questions.

Before Attending Orientation

1. Take your placement tests

All new students are required to take English and math placement tests. Students who studied a modern language in high school are encouraged to take the modern language test. A preferred deadline to complete your placement tests is one week prior to your Orientation. Visit the Student Development Center's webpage ius.edu/sdc for scheduling, parking, and testing details.

2. Create an IU Computing Account

You can create your account by going online to itaccounts.iu.edu. You will need your 10-digit university identification number, which is listed on the acceptance letter you received from the Office of Admissions.

3. Get your UCard

Get your University I.D. (UCard) on the same day you take your placement tests. Visit the Office of the Bursar in University Center South, Room 103.

4. Report dual credit earned

Students who earned dual credit in high school are required to report these courses and submit official college transcripts to the IU Southeast Office of Admission. This information is useful when advising students on appropriate courses for the first semester, so please indicate any dual credit earned during high school at your Orientation.

5. Grant third-party access to a parent or spouse

Third-party access is helpful if someone needs access to your grades, course schedule, and/or financial aid information. Students can designate a family member as an authorized payer, granting them access to the student's bursar bill and account information.

Visit the University Information Technology Services site, ius.edu/authorize to assign third-party access to a parent or other family member.

Family Program

We offer a separate program for parents and family members preparing to send their students to college. This day-long program runs concurrently with the student Orientation. Family members will have an opportunity to learn more about IU Southeast and the resources we offer students, as well as ways they can help their students succeed in college. Students need to indicate in the Orientation online reservation system that they plan to bring a family member. Due to space limitations, we request a maximum of two family members per student.

New Student Enrollment Fee

All degree-seeking first-year and transfer students are required to pay the mandatory New Student Enrollment Fee (subject to change). The fee helps to support all new student programs, including Orientation. The fee will be charged directly to your student billing account after you enroll in classes and is non-refundable.

Changing Your Reservation

Please contact the office of Campus Life at (812) 941-2316 to make any adjustment to your Orientation reservation. If you do not attend your Orientation, please contact us immediately to reschedule, as space for each Orientation is limited.
