SURVEY PURPOSE AND REPORT STRUCTURE

The Indiana University Southeast Graduating Student Survey is administered to students when they apply for graduation and collects data regarding post-graduation plans, employment and income, applied learning experiences, factors influencing student satisfaction with their experiences at IU Southeast, diversity and culture, campus safety and self-perceived level of abilities. This multi-year report is intended to provide information regarding how these data have changed from year to year. This information can be used to support decision-making that facilitate change in response to the dynamic needs of the student population.

Up to three iterations of data have been tabled, when available, but some historical data is unavailable for questions that have changed in recent years as the survey has evolved. Most importantly, this was the first reporting year in which respondents to the survey who did not receive their degree in the survey year were excluded from analysis. Many of these students graduate a semester or two after their expected survey year. As such, some year-to-year comparisons are invalid. Going forward, the practice of the Office of Institutional Research and Assessment (OIRA) will be to compare the list of respondents to the list of graduating students, remove those respondents who do not graduate in the survey year cycle, and add their responses to the survey year cycle in which they graduate.

In addition, individual question response rate varies, as all survey questions were voluntary and some respondents chose not to answer certain questions. We have chosen to include partial responses in the data report. Unless otherwise indicated, non-respondents are excluded in tabled data counts and percentages. Complete data tables for multiple years and across all questions and answer categories can be obtained via request to Ron Severtis in OIRA at rseverti@ius.edu.

DEGREES AWARDED & POST-GRADUATION PLANS

Degrees Awarded

Almost one of every four degrees awarded in 2012 to respondents was a Graduate degree.

Post-Graduation Plans

The percentage of responding undergraduates admitted to graduate school by the time of survey administration is down slightly from 2011 and remains low overall. Only five responding undergraduates indicated acceptance into graduate school, while no respondents indicated pursuit of a DDS, MD or JD/Law degree.

Table 2: Percentage of Undergraduates Admitted to Graduate School

A more accurate indicator for the pursuit of post-graduate degrees for IU Southeast graduates may be the percentage of respondents who take graduate entrance exams. The percentage of undergraduates who have taken one or more graduate tests has grown since 2011. The Praxis II is still the most popular test at just under 50% of respondents, though the GRE is seeing some growth.

EMPLOYMENT AND INCOME

Employment

The vast majority (99.7%) of 2012 respondents were employed while attending IU Southeast, with 54.2% working 31 or more hours per week. Almost all Graduate respondents (83.4%) worked 31 or more hours per week, compared with 38.0% of Undergraduate respondents.

The majority of respondents (79.3%) were employed at the time of survey administration. The percentage of respondents who were unemployed at the time of the survey has fluctuated over the last 3 years, but has dropped slightly from 2011. The vast majority of Graduate respondents (87.9%) appear satisfied with their current employment while over half of Undergraduate respondents are seeking a change or are unemployed.

2012 Graduating Student Survey

Nearly 90% of respondents reported employment at the same position held while attending IU Southeast, but this number is steadily trending downward since first asked in 2010.

Income

When Graduate and Undergraduate responses are combined, the largest annual gross salary category is 'Under $25,000' and is nearly identical to the 2011 figure. However, when comparing the two groups, the differences are striking and expected. Undergraduates primarily fall in the 'Under $25,000' category, with all other categories below 10%. For Graduates, nearly 43% of respondents fall between $35,000 and $44,999 per year.

APPLIED LEARNING EXPERIENCES

Respondents' completion of a practicum or clinical experience is trending slightly upward while internship completion trends downward. Note that Graduate respondents were not asked about student teaching beginning with this year's survey.

SATISFACTION: IU SOUTHEAST EDUCATION

The vast majority of all respondents believe that IU Southeast offers high-quality academic programs, would encourage others to attend the school and believe IU Southeast has a good reputation in the community.

Among Graduate respondents, half of the satisfaction questions received ‘Strongly Agree’ or ‘Agree’ combined percentages of over 90%. The only category below 75% (‘There is a strong sense of community on the campus’ at 65.5%) seems to be a lesser issue for Graduate respondents, as only 3.4% disagreed with this statement with 31.1% neutral.

SATISFACTION: IU SOUTHEAST EXPERIENCE

Responding Graduate students are very satisfied with multiple components of the IU Southeast experience, including quality of instruction and courses within their program, relevance of classes to career goals, the ease of the payment process, staff responsiveness, and getting courses in the proper sequence.

Lower satisfaction levels are found in the area of the quality of career and job opportunities information and internships; however, over 90% of these respondents are working full-time and only about 10% are seeking a career change. Low satisfaction with community service engagement and overseas study could be irrelevant to the graduate student experience.

Despite some of these low satisfaction levels, these categories also receive very few ‘Very Dissatisfied’ and ‘Dissatisfied’ ratings, with most Graduate respondents indicating neutrality with regards to the last few items on this list.

2012 Graduating Student Survey

Undergraduate respondents also indicate satisfaction with the IU Southeast experience, with quality of instruction again rating highest at over 95%. Most of the low satisfaction categories involve out-of-class or co-curricular activities, though these categories received few dissatisfaction ratings and high neutrality. For instance, over 60% of Undergraduate respondents were satisfied with extra-curricular activities and an additional 25% responded with 'Neutral'. The highest dissatisfaction levels were seen only in food services on campus (13.1%) and availability of campus parking (36.1%).

SAFETY

Nearly all respondents continue to feel safe in all three relevant areas of the IU Southeast campus even when broken down between Graduate and Undergraduate respondents. Among 2012 respondents, only two students indicated they rarely feel safe in campus parking lots and two students stated never feeling safe in the parking lots.

LEVEL OF ABILITIES

The majority of Graduate respondents rated themselves ‘Above Average’ to ‘Excellent’ in the list of abilities below. Only 8.6% believe their abilities of ‘Relating knowledge with practice’ and ‘Understanding of my field of study’ are average and none self-rated as ‘Below Average’. The lowest-ranked ability, ‘Applying quantitative skills’, recorded 30.5% of respondents who rated themselves ‘Average’ and only 4.8% ‘Below Average’.
